

Oman Air Sindbad partnership with Travelling Connect

Oman Air Sindbad Frequent Flyer Programme has signed up a partnership agreement with Travelling Connect to offer its frequent flyer members the benefits of earning Sindbad miles by using their mobile phones while traveling abroad.

Any of the worldwide members of the Sindbad Frequent Flyer Programme within or outside Oman can benefit by earning Sindbad miles by making mobile phone calls on any mobile network associated with Travelling Connect.

Members can earn Sindbad miles by making and receiving mobile phone calls from selective networks in Asia: Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Macau, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Thailand; in Middle-East: Syria; in Europe Turkey, Italy, Ukraine and Portugal; in Africa in Egypt and Algeria.

Mr. Mohammed Al Shikely, Senior Manager Marketing of Oman Air explains: "It is very important for today's International traveler to be as well connected as possible. Oman Air recognizes the importance of staying connected whilst traveling and is proud to be able to reward their Sinbad customers with this latest offer which rewards you for using an essential service."

First members have to register once for this service, and then each time they travel abroad, they manually select one of the associated mobile networks in order to earn Sinbad miles. The list of participating mobile operators is published on website www.travellingconnect.com/countries. There are no additional costs for making use of Travelling Connects service.

Travelling Connect is the leading global provider of loyalty management services to the telecommunication industry. The services of Travelling Connect help mobile operators to improve the bottom-line of their international-roaming business. Travelling Connect achieves end-user loyalty to the networks of its clients by closing partnerships with (international) customer loyalty programs enabling Travelling Connect to designate frequent-traveller miles or points to an ever increasing audience of international travellers world-wide.
